Ensuring English Proficiency for Non-Arab Candidates

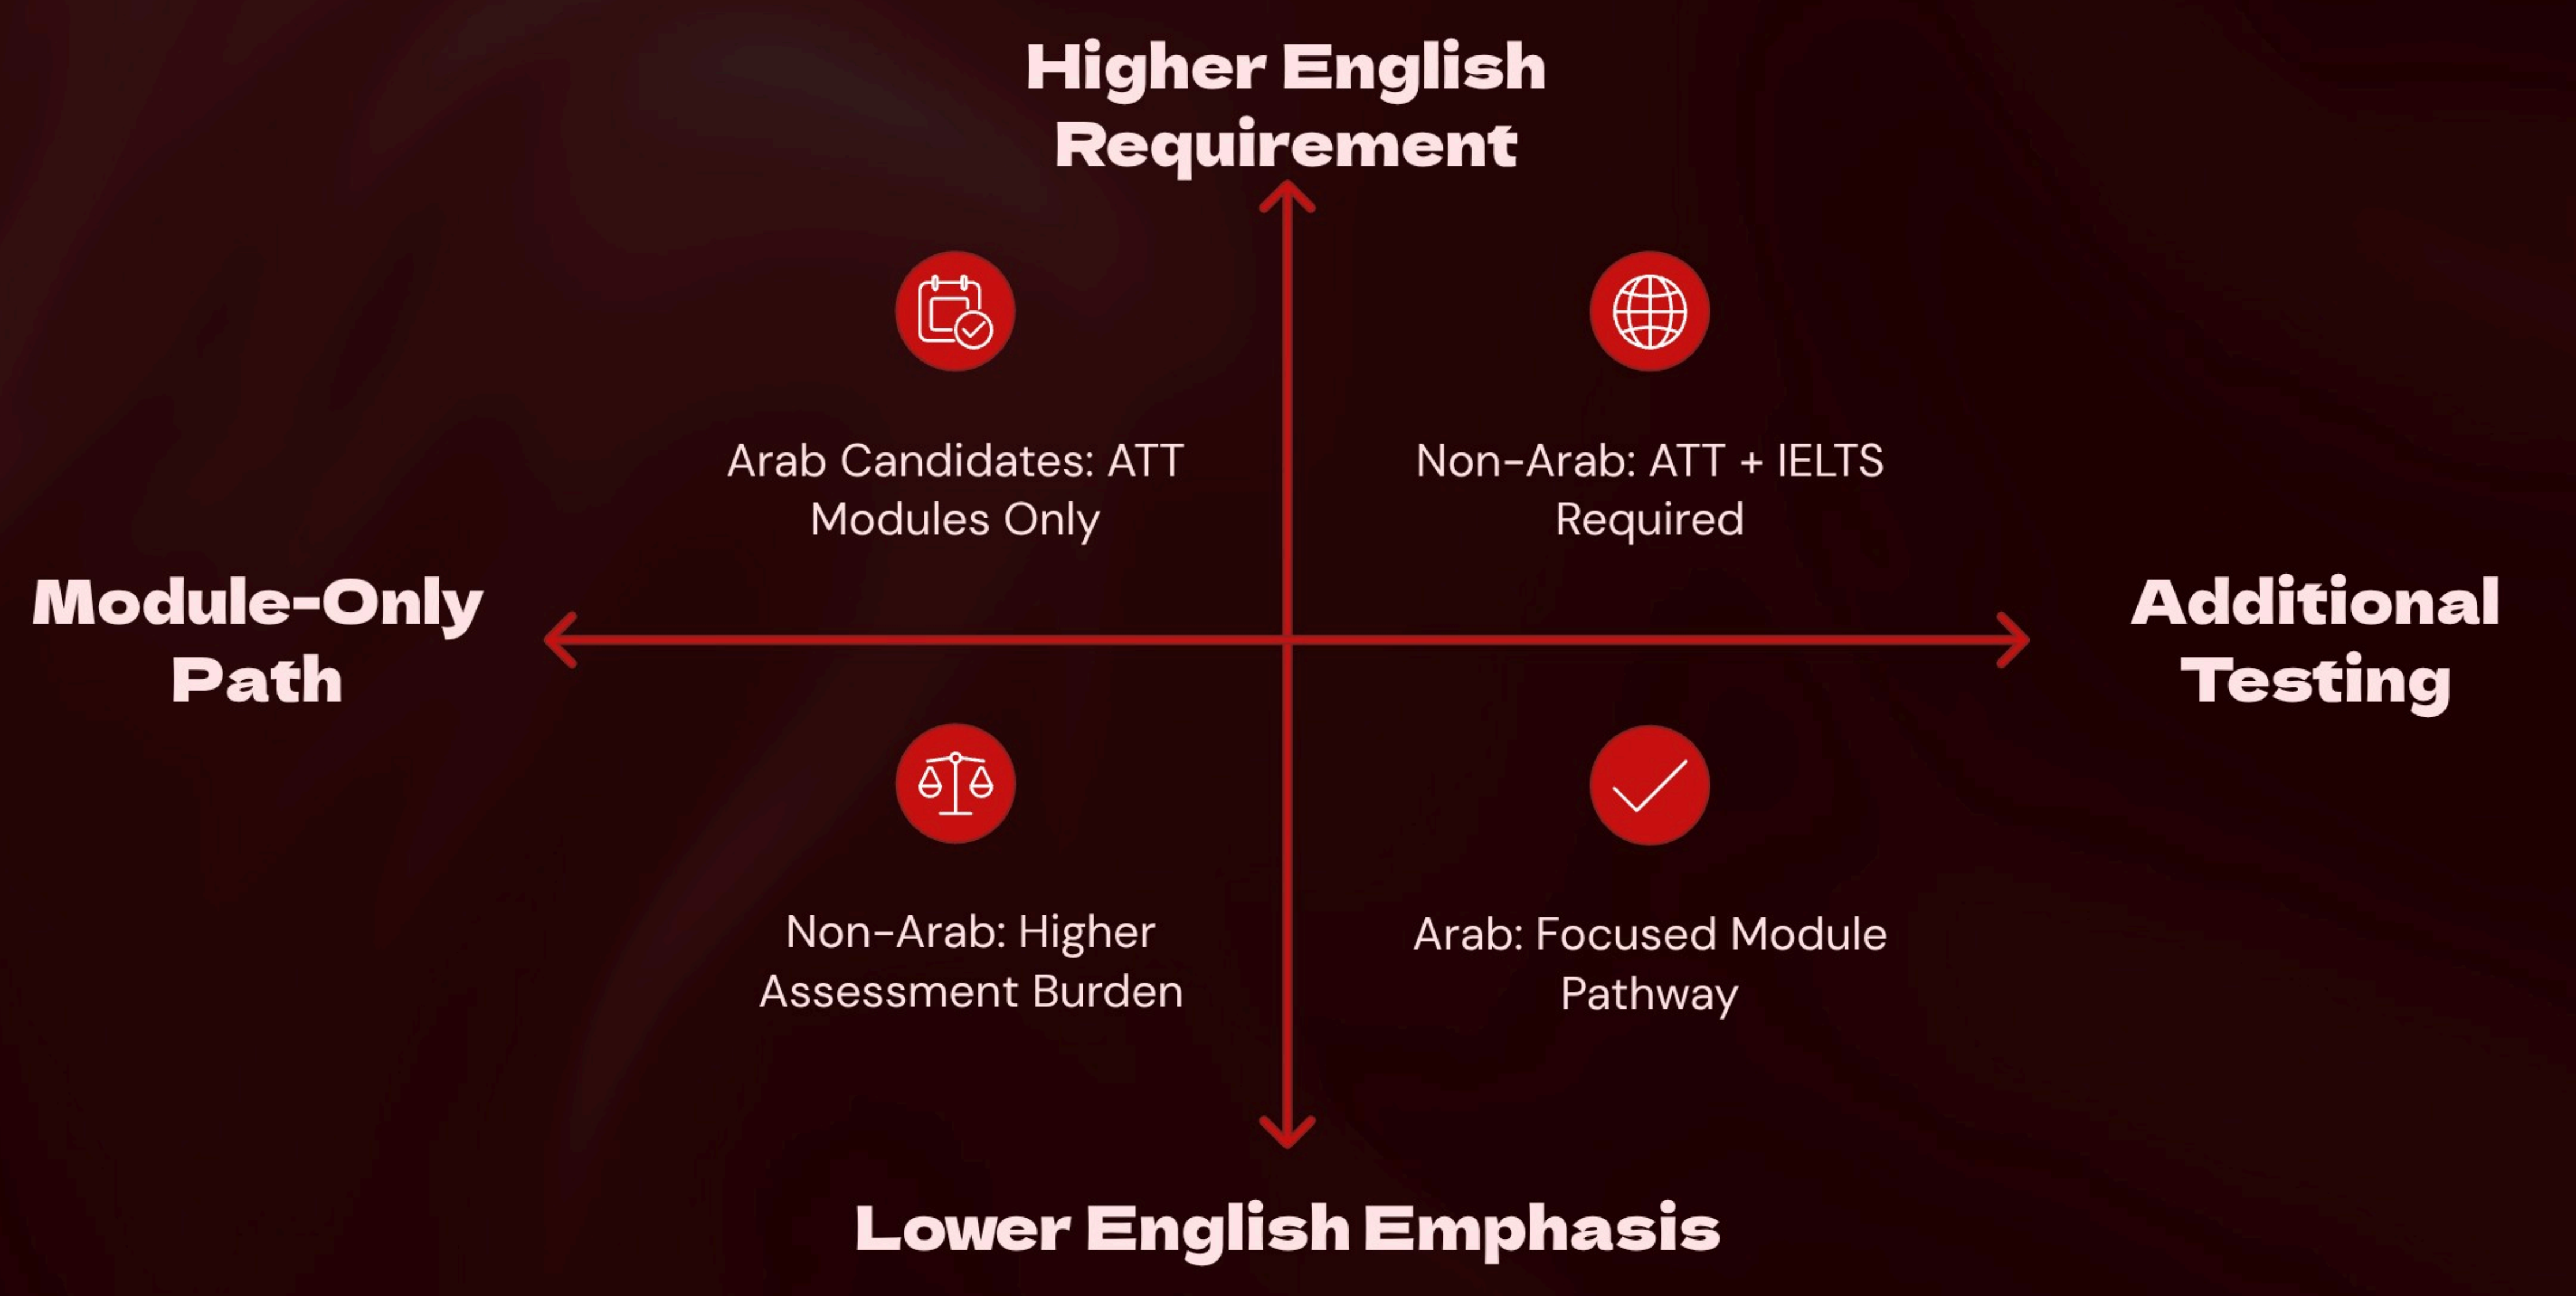

The IELTS exam is a crucial requirement exclusively for non-Arab candidates. It assesses your ability to communicate effectively in English across four key areas.

- Reading Comprehension
- Academic Writing
- Listening Skills
- Spoken English Proficiency

Successful completion of all four sections is mandatory for qualification, ensuring you possess the necessary language skills for professional practice.

Clear Path to Licensure

This diagram outlines the distinct examination pathways. Arab candidates focus solely on the four ATT modules, while non-Arab candidates must also successfully complete the IELTS examination to demonstrate English language proficiency.

Gathering Required Documentation

Beyond examinations, a thorough collection of supporting documents is essential for your Federal Tax Agent application. Each item plays a vital role in verifying your qualifications and background.

- Degree Verification

Ensuring your academic qualifications are officially recognized through DataFlow or QuadraBay services.

- Equivalency Certificate

Official recognition of your academic degree within the UAE education system.

- Police Clearance Certificate

A certificate proving your good conduct and legal standing.

- Medical Fitness Certificate

Confirmation of your health status from an authorized medical facility.

- Indemnity Insurance

Professional liability insurance to cover any potential claims arising from your professional services.
